SLATES AND SPELLING BOOKS.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE NEW VOLUME.

January, 1845.

THE UNITED STATES MAGAZINE,

AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW.

JOHN L. O'SULLIVAN, EDITOR.

THE Sixteenth Volume of the Democratic Review commences with the present number. The Publisher cannot omit the occa-

the long and keenly contested buttles of opinion, by which the country has been ever since more or less deeply agitated. Having freely chared the worst disasters, the gloom lest depressions, may it not fairly be allowed to ask and hope to share now the benefit of the triumph itself through considerable portions of that period, only by large pe-cuniary sacrifices caused by the delinquencies of too many of its subscribers—through sensons when zeal for the principles to which a was devoted could alone afford a motive for its continuance at so models unrequited expenditure of both money, time and intellectual effort.

Its publisher now teels fairly entitled to invoke an active and gener-ous friendliness of support, on the part of its subscribers and the intelligent members of its Party generally, for its support. Our opponents have recently organized extensive arrangements for the estab-

eminent political and literary manes in the ranks of our opponents, and doubtless to be sustained by the overflowing means possessed by that party, to sustain a work of that character, it thus holds out the prospect of an honorable rivairy, which the Denocratic Review cheer-fully accepts, but which the Denocratic Party must liberally contribute to enable it to maintain, in a manner worthy of that party, an

Read what Scarpa's Acoustic Oil has THE GREATEST CURE EVER YET PERFORMED BY ANY MEDICINE! IT NEVER FRILS!

From the Albany Daily Knickerbother, West Thor, June 3, 1844. West Thor, June 3, 1844.

This is to certify that I, Willard Jenks, proprietor of the West Troy Exchange Botel, having been afflicted with dealness in one ear for the last twenty years, and in the other for the last year, so that it was impossible for me to bear the londest voice, and after trying various remedies without improving my hearing in the least, I was induced to try Scarpa's Compound Acoustic Oil for the cure of dealness, and it is with great satisf ction that I am enabled to state that it has perfectly restored my bearing, and I will be hap; y to see any person who wishes for information in relation to my case, at my place in West Troy.

WILLARD JENKS.

The editor of the Philadelphia Spirit of the Times, J. Du So'le, Esq. has recently been cured of deafness by the use of this Oil, and has given his testimony as follows. In the Times of Sept. 21, 1844. "Who wants to Hear?—The best article extant for the cure of chronic deafness, arising from a recent cold, is "Scarpa's Acoustic Oil." We speak from experience."
